Meet Molly

Audio CD Section 4: Expanded Story

(Page 12) Let's meet Molly. "Hello. I'm Molly." Molly likes to draw. She has a very special pencil. Molly has a pink friend. His name is Fred. Molly likes to draw things for Fred. "This is my hand," says Molly. "These are my fingers." Fred can see a hand. The hand has five fingers. Can you see a hand? Can you see fingers? Let's count them: one, two, three, four, five.
(Page 14) Molly's pencil changes color. Molly is drawing again. "These are my legs," she says. "One leg. Two legs." Molly can stand up. Molly can dance. Fred is very happy. Molly points the pencil and draws some more. "These are my feet. One foot. Two feet." Molly has blue shoes on her feet. They are new. Fred looks at her new shoes. Wow! That's cool!
(Page 16) Molly points the pencil. What is she drawing now? Can you see what it is? It's a boy. "This is Joe," she says. "He has blue eyes and a big smile. He is my friend." Fred is happy to meet Joe. Now Molly has two friends. Molly is very good at drawing. Joe has a head, two eyes, two ears, a nose, and a mouth. He has a big smile.
(Page 18) Molly draws Joe's arms and hands, and his legs and feet. Wow! He is a real boy. It's magic. "Do you like dogs?" asks Molly. "Yes, I do," says Joe. Molly points the pencil. It changes color and she begins to draw. What is it? "OK. Here is a dog," says Molly. The dog wants to play. He is a happy dog. "Thank you," says Joe. Fred and Joe are very happy with their new friend.
(Page 20) "Do you like dinosaurs?" asks Molly. "Yes, I do," says Joe. Dinosaurs are big and strong. Molly has a smile on her face. Fred, Joe, and the dog look at Molly. Can Molly draw a real dinosaur? Molly points the pencil. She is not drawing a dinosaur. "OK. Here is a door," she says. Joe looks at the door. It's not a dinosaur, it's a door. Where is the dinosaur?
(Page 22) The door is red. It is closed. "Open the door," says Molly. Joe looks at Molly. "I don't like doors," he says. "I like dinosaurs." Joe can't play with a door, but he can play with a dinosaur. Molly is smiling. "Just open it," she says. What is behind the door? Can you guess? Joe opens the big red door.
(Page 24) The door is open. Tarra! "You see. It's a dinosaur," says Molly. Joe is happy. Wow. He sees a big friendly dinosaur in the doorway. Fred and the dog are afraid, but Joe is very happy. He hugs the big friendly dinosaur. "I like dinosaurs," Joe says. "Thank you Molly." Molly holds her special pencil and says, "You're welcome." Fred and the dog run away. Molly and Joe just laugh. Molly can do magic with her special pencil.

Where Is It?

Audio CD Section 4: Expanded Story

(Page 30) Meet Alice and John. They are brother and sister. Alice and John like to look for things. When something is missing, they look and look and look for it. Today, Alice and John are at home. "Where is my lion?" asks John. "Look, John! It is under the chair," says Alice. "OK. I see it," says John. The lion is under the chair.
(Page 32) Alice and John go out into the yard. It's a sunny day. Alice is looking for her kitten. "Where is my kitten?" asks Alice. "Here he is, Alice. He is in the tree," says John. "Oh, no. Come down," says Alice. The kitten is in the tree. Alice doesn't want the kitten to fall.
(Page 34) Alice and John are in the classroom with their classmates. "Where are my pens?" asks the teacher. John and Alice look for the teacher's pens. "They are on the desk," says Alice. "Thank you, Alice," says the teacher. The pens are on the desk, next to the books.
(Page 36) John and Alice's grandmother comes to visit them. She cannot find her bag. "Where is my bag?" asks grandmother. Alice and John look for the bag. They know there's always some candy in Granny's bag. "It is over here, Granny," says John. "It is next to the door." Alice and John are very, very happy. They like to eat Granny's candy.
(Page 38) John is with his father in the kitchen. His father is hungry. He wants to cook something for dinner. "Where are the eggs?" he asks. John looks around the kitchen. He sees the eggs. "They are in the box," says John. "Thank you, John." The eggs are in the box. How many eggs can you see?
(Page 40) Alice and John are in the living room with their mother. Alice is on the sofa. John is near the TV. Their Mom is looking for her keys. They are not on the sofa and they are not on the table. "Where are my keys?" asks Mom. Alice and John are looking for the keys. "Look Mom. They are over there. They are on the TV," says John. Mom is happy. She needs the keys to drive her car.
(Page 42) Alice and her baby sister want to go outside. They want to play in the yard. Baby needs her hat. "Where is my hat?" asks baby. "Look, baby," says Alice. "Your hat is on your head." Baby is happy. Now she can play outside. Is something missing in your house? Just look for it. You can find it.
